PURPOSE:

This Request for Proposal (RFP) outlines the scope of work required to complete the material procurement, installation coordination, and construction required to extend Quintillion Outside Plant fiber facilities for the Nome to Homer Express Project in four separate terrestrial segments, as outlined below and in the attached documents.

BACKGROUND:

Alaska has the most remote, rugged, and culturally diverse geographic areas in the United States. As a result, it faces unique project challenges due to the geography, topology, weather, lack of contiguous roads, transportation, accommodations in towns, and demographics of the State. Alaska is vast, with a landmass stretching 2,500 miles across, the distance from the west coast of California to Florida. Further, Alaska's population is one of the lowest in the nation and ranks last overall in broadband availability with only 61% wired and fixed wireless broadband coverage at significantly higher cost when available. Many of Alaska's rural communities are remote and separated by vast distances, not interconnected by roads or fiber backbones.

Quintillion understands these challenges and in 2022, we sought a solution that would bring competitive bandwidth options to more communities. In 2023, Quintillion was awarded a National Telecommunications and Information Administration (NTIA) Middle-Mile Grant to fund much of the Nome to Homer Express project. NTIA's governance, rules, and procedures must be followed during the execution of the project tasks.

Quintillion's Nome to Homer Express project will extend fiber from Nome, south to Emmonak, and south to Naknek, where the subsea fiber transitions to terrestrial fiber at the beach, and is buried along Naknek's road system on the way out of town before it heads northeast to Igiugig.

The Quintillion system then connects to the east to Homer and Anchorage, and completes a ring up north to Fairbanks, Deadhorse, and Northwest Arctic villages. Figure 1 shows the Nome to Homer Express system, along with the primary Quintillion network.

This RFP encompasses four terrestrial segments of the Nome to Homer Route (Figure 2):

- Emmonak – From Beach Manhole (BMH) to Cable Landing Station (CLS)
- Naknek – From Beach Manhole (BMH) to Cable Landing Station (CLS) to edge of the community, near King Salmon
- Naknek to Igiugig – From the termination of the Naknek segment, over the tundra and waterways, and reaching the western edge of Igiugig at the CLS
- Igiugig – From CLS on tundra route to east end of Igiugig

7. Cost Reporting and Budget Management

- Submit detailed, periodic cost reports at predefined milestones (50% and 80% budget utilization).

REQUIREMENTS:

This RFP represents the requirements for an open and competitive process.

Proprietary Outside Plant Engineering (OSPE) design documents will be shared with interested bidders only after signing a Non-Disclosure Agreement (NDA) with Quintillion.

If a bidder intends to outsource or subcontract any portion of the work to meet the requirements specified in this RFP, such arrangements must be explicitly disclosed within the proposal. The following details are required for any outsourced or subcontracted work:

- The name of the subcontracting organization(s).
- A detailed description of the scope of work to be performed by the subcontractor(s).
- All associated costs must be included in the proposal and clearly itemized.

Proposals must present all costs as all-inclusive, covering any outsourced or subcontracted work. For time-and-material proposals, bidders must provide:

- A complete schedule of rates.
- A clearly stated "not-to-exceed" amount to accomplish the specified scope of work.

Quintillion requires that proposals include a comprehensive list of any subcontractors the bidder plans to utilize.

Quintillion places strong emphasis on engaging local resources. Bidders are encouraged to collaborate with Alaska Native organizations within the project communities to identify available services and labor. Adherence to local cultural customs and norms is mandatory. To assist in this, bidders are advised to consult Quintillion's Community Resource Guide, which outlines processes, standards, and expectations for community engagement.

ASSUMPTIONS AND EXCLUSIONS:

The successful bidder may need to furnish a guaranty as assurance that the project is completed satisfactorily. The type of guaranty could be a performance bond, letter of credit or another form of assurance acceptable to Quintillion.

A guaranty allows Quintillion to cover any additional costs due to the contractor’s failure to perform. A guaranty provides financial security and minimizes risk to ensure satisfactory completion of contracted work. It can mitigate the risk of project delays, financial losses, and contractor default on projects where appropriate. Quintillion reserves the right to approve the institution that provides the guaranty in whatever form.

Davis-Bacon requirements do not apply to this project. However, if Davis-Bacon Act requirements are not adhered to, a Project Employment and Local Impact report is required. The selected bidder will be required to provide the following for the Project Employment and Local Impact report:
